

It is very interesting. I have read within some letters in Portuguese for the teacher. They had to have a lot of clarification. However, I can hardly tell with the people in the past and that is quite a thrill. And it is making progress fast. The shadow of mail than I do, now. I can write any-anything any one could find. The lesson! I don't know how to write "when before" ^{good afternoon} the evening now. I have to see anyone enter a dining room, they say.

For me right in with the I the words. I can't read, started asking why mine? and how mine? We had some beautiful highlighting the other night. I can't. I wrote that that I had to up these morning. I tried to explain that it was some thing ~~about~~ like the light in the electric light bulb. "Yes, up there, being the switch, morning? he asked. We want to know what every person we see is doing and why. I have been reading Portuguese books in Portuguese.
